> Prominent warning: CFDs, rolling spot foreign exchange and other leveraged derivatives are complex, high-risk products. Leverage can magnify losses rapidly. You may lose all money allocated to trading and, where negative balance protection does not apply, you may owe additional money. Do not trade unless you understand the products, can bear the loss and the service is lawful in your location.

B.1 No guarantee

Past performance, hypothetical results, back-tests, analyst views, trading signals and prior recommendations are not reliable indicators of future results. No communication, strategy, automated feature or adviser can guarantee a profit, prevent a loss or ensure a withdrawal outcome.

B.2 Client responsibility

Before trading, clients must review the applicable Product Specification, cost schedule, margin requirement, execution model, client-fund disclosure and jurisdiction notice. Clients should obtain independent legal, tax and financial advice where appropriate.

B.3 Local warning overlay

Where a local regulator prescribes wording, leverage limits, a firm-specific loss percentage, a key information document or placement requirements, the approved local overlay replaces or supplements this global warning. No placeholder percentage may be published.
